The quality of the papers published in the Journal depends on both the authors and the external reviewers who help the editors select the best papers and improve their presentation. JGIM is incredibly lucky to have such a wonderful group of reviewers: more than 1,100 individuals provided almost 1,500 reviews in the past year, with an average quality score of 4.3 on a 6-point Likert scale. (And our Deputy Editors are tough scorers!) Names of those who have reviewed for us from July 2007 through June 2008 are listed below. We hope this recognition will serve as a token of our gratitude. - The Editors
